Overview

The descendants of the Ahamacave or Mojave Indians have lived along the Colorado River for thousands of years. The natural environment of the Colorado River changed with the completion of Hoover Dam in 1931. Students will read an article from the Heard Museum, then compare and contrast living conditions before and after the dam.

Purpose

Students will learn how the Mojave Indians live along the Colorado River and see how the building of a dam can impact one's culture and way of life.

Materials

- Information sheet, "The Ahamacave"
- Map of AZ Indian Reservations
- Transparencies of Important Dams in Arizona and Arizona’s Indian Reservation maps
- Photographs of the Colorado River Delta at different scales
Take Me to the River

- Blue marker, colored pencil, or crayon
- Picture of Hoover Dam
- Ahamacave Worksheet
- Highlighter

Objectives

The student will be able to:
- discuss Arizona river environments and the effect building a dam has on people.
- discuss the impact of dietary changes on people.
- write complete sentences.
- distinguish cause and effect.
- distinguish fact and opinion.

Procedures

1. Ask if anyone knows what a dam is and what it does. Mention that there are many in Arizona, but perhaps the most famous one is Hoover Dam. Show the transparency of the Important Dams in Arizona map.

2. Show a picture of Hoover Dam.

3. Have students locate the Colorado River on a wall map, if available, and then on the Arizona Indian Reservations map. On an overhead of this map, have students trace the river from the mountains to the Sea of Cortes.

4. Ask students what impact a dam might have on people living along that river. Distribute the article to each student. Read it aloud, emphasizing important details. Encourage children to use highlighters.

5. Discuss the article, then have students complete a T chart noting the lifestyles of the Mohave people before and after the building of Hoover Dam.

6. Distribute assessment worksheets to the students.

Assessment

Assessment Worksheet: Items 1-7 assess geography knowledge. Sentences 1-7 can be graded on the 6 Trait Writing Rubric for Sentence Fluency. Items 8, 9, and 10 assess reading standards in an objective test format. Eighty percent or higher will be considered mastery.

Extensions

The Heard Museum provides traveling suitcases to schools on various Native Americans of Arizona. For a more in-depth unit on the Ahamacave or Mojave, complete with artifacts and information on present day Ahamacave, a suitcase may be checked out.
